WHY YOU SHOULD JOIN HI DESIGN ASIA

Meet the right people

We only invite the decision makers with confirmed hotel projects; no time wasters! Private meetings with your best prospects and ample opportunity to meet others during the event, away from their daily distractions so they can focus on you and your products

Save time and money

How much time, effort and money would you have to spend to get in front of these hotel project leaders? We deliver hotel projects specifiers all over Asia in one place ready to listen.

Limited competition

We limit Supplier company places. This means limited numbers in your product category which means less competition and more hotel projects for you!

Level playing field

We don't have any sponsorship opportunities which means everyone is treated the same and have equal amount of opportunities.

Simple and minimal risk

No set up costs or time, and a personalised organisation will allow participating at HI Design easy! You know who's coming, your meetings are with your best prospects and you can meet everyone else throughout the event!
